LOSS AT WASHINGTON

Details of the Damage Wrought at the Capital by the Storm.

GOVERNMENT PROPERTY NOT SPARED

The President's Summer Home Suffers—Churches and Theatres Damaged and Historic Trees Uprooted — Two Persons Killed at Georgetown.

Washington, Oct. 1.—A careful investigation of the work of the West Indian tornado in this city shows that it respected neither official nor diplomatic proprieties. It tipped off some of the coping of the White House and laid low most of the historic trees in the White House grounds, including the elm tree which Lincoln planted, and this gave the relic fanatics a fruitful field for their operation. It carried away part of the roof of the state department, where the official documents are stored, but fortunately left them uninjured. The costly roof of the patent office, constructed after the fire there some years ago, was rolled up and distributed all around the neighborhood and skylights half an inch thick were remorselessly beaten in. The naval observatory and in fact pretty well every other public building was more or less damaged. Diplomatic residences were not spared. That of the French minister was left roofless, and even the substantially built embassy of Great Britain suffered the loss of the portico, under which the British ambassador was accustomed to sit in the summer evening, and receive his friends. Churches and theatres suffered alike. The slate roof of the Church of the Covenant, where President Harrison used to worship, was blown down. Still more disastrous was the fate of the New York Presbyterian church, which Mr Bryan recently attended, sitting in Lincoln's pew. The whole tower of the edifice was reduced to matchwood, and persons in search of souvenirs had no difficulty in obtaining them. Nearly every other church in the city suffered more or less, and their antipodes, the theatres, were equally visited. The tower of the Grand Opera house, formerly Albaugh's was blown to pieces. There was no loss of life in Washington, though a list of twenty-four persons seriously injured by falling branches and crumbling walls is given out by the hospitals. The total destruction of property in Washington city by the storm is estimated at nearly half a million dollars. In Alexandria, the Virginian suburb of Washington, the damage done by the storm is estimated at not less than $100,000, and two lives were lost. The killed are Mrs. Louisa Nolt and William Dunlap Stewart, crushed to death by falling walls. Nearly 200 houses were badly damaged.

The President's House Damaged.

President Cleveland's suburban home at Woodley, near the city, which has been left in charge of servants since the president and his family went away to Massachusetts, caught the full fury of the gale. Roof and rafters were carried away and landed 500 yards distant, where they were intermingled with the ruins of a windmill which had supplied water to the country seat of John R. McLean, adjoining the president's property. Portions of Mr. McLean's stables, which stood on a slight bluff adjoining the president's grounds and which, from their exposed position, were quite a feature in the landscape, were intermingled in the general mix up.

FOURTEEN DEAD AT SAVANNAH

Loss by the Storm in Georgia More Than One Million Dollars.

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 1.—Forty-eight hours have elapsed since the West Indian cyclone swept this part of Georgia, leaving death and ruin in its path, and communication with many districts in this locality has not yet been restored. In this county alone latest estimates place the damage at about $1,000,000. Few houses in Savannah escaped without some damage and from the surrounding country comes similar stories of destruction. The death list so far stands at fourteen and it is feared that the fatalities on the island near the coast may be greater. The injured have all been removed to hospitals or their homes. Three are fatally injured and will die. The steamer Gov. Safford, which left Beaufort, S. C., went ashore at Daufuskie island and is lying one hundred yards high and dry inland. Much anxiety is felt for the tug Cynthia, which left here before the storm with a barge in tow for Brunswick. The loss of small sailing vessels is heavy. Upwards of twenty are reported ashore in the marshes and creeks and on the beach at the mouth of the river. The full extent of the damage and loss of life will not be known for several days. The damage on the South Carolina coast is believed to be heavy, but, so far, little loss of life is reported. The work of clearing away the wreckage from the streets of this city went on at night and to-day most of the streets are passable. The parks are pitiable sights. The loss to the electric lines is estimated at $100,000. The damage to the railroads will foot up over $250,000. The wreckage of the Plant system passenger depot and the Georgia & Alabama railroad freight warehouses has been partially cleared away, so that the yards and tracks are passable and trains are running on time. Lighthouse Keeper Evans reached the city on a boat late last night with the first news from Tybee island at the mouth of the Savannah river. The storm there was severe. All of the hotels are damaged and the pavilions of the Hotel Tybee and South End hotel, both large structures, were carried away.

TO REGULATE HORSESHOEING.

A Board of Examiners Appointed Under the New New York Law.

Albany, Oct. 1.—Gov. Morton has appointed a board to have charge of the examination of horseshoers in cities of over 50,000 inhabitants. The law under which the examiners were appointed was introduced and passed at the last session of the legislature by assemblyman Daniel Finn of New York. Hereafter no person shall practice horseshoeing as a master or journeyman horseshoer in any city having a population of 50,000 or more, unless he is duly registered in a book kept for that purpose in the office of the county clerk. No person shall be entitled to register as master or journeyman horseshoer without presenting a certificate of satisfactory examination before the board of examiners and whose qualifications for examination shall be that he has served an apprenticeship at horseshoeing for at least three years.

HABITUAL MORPHINE USER.

The Mysterious American Woman in Vienna Submits to Tracheotomy.

Vienna, Oct. 1.—Constance Elroy, the American woman who on Monday visited the American consulate here in great distress and was induced by Consul General Judd and his wife to remain as their guest until her circumstances should improve, and who after retiring for the night was discovered to have taken a large dose of morphine, has undergone the operation of tracheotomy. She says she is a close friend of the wife of a government official at Washington and admits that she is an habitual user of morphine. On Monday she received a letter from her husband, which excited her greatly, and it is surmised that this fact may have had some connection with her taking the dose of morphine which nearly proved fatal.

AWFUL ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE.

An Asbury Park Man Beats His Face with a Monkey Wrench.

Asbury Park, N. J., Oct. 1.—Jerome R. Mudell, captain of company A, Third New Jersey regiment, attempted suicide yesterday afternoon by beating in his face with a monkey wrench which he found in his barn. He was discovered by one of his neighbors who took the weapon from him. Mudell was carried to his home in a serious condition and attended by five physicians. For several weeks Mudell has been acting queerly, but it was not thought that he would attempt suicide. He is collector and treasurer of Bradley Beach, treasurer of the Firemen's Relief association and a member of the board of education of Neptune township.

MURDERED BY BRIGANDS.

Fate of Two Men in Bulgaria Because a Big Ransom Was Not Forthcoming.

Vienna, Oct. 1.—Advices received here from Belgrade say that a brother of the Austrian consul at Seres, Macedonia, who was carried off by a band of Bulgarian brigands some two weeks ago with a wealthy Greek landed proprietor and others, has been murdered with four of his companions because the ransom of $50,000 demanded by the brigands as the price of their liberty was not forthcoming. At one time it was reported that it was the Austrian consul himself who had been kidnapped. This rumor was contradicted some time ago.

Inter-State Fair at Trenton.

Trenton, Oct. 1.—To-day is "Politicians Day" at the inter-state fair and a great crowd is in attendance. Garrett A. Hobart, the republican candidate for vice-president, is on hand, but will not make any speech. The original intention of having Mr. Bryan was abandoned because Mr. Bryan's itinerary prevented his attending conveniently. Twenty-five thousand persons were in attendance yesterday. It was "Farmers' Day," and the rural element was well represented. The racing was good.

Bohemian Coal Miners' Strike.

Prague, Oct. 1.—A serious strike is in progress throughout the coal regions of northern Bohemia, due to the incitement of anarchists. A band of about fifty strikers has been marching from pit to pit at Bruex, forcing the miners to stop work, and at Ossegg and elsewhere the strikers are smashing windows or doing other damage, besides intimidating the miners. The managers of the miners have asked for military protection.

The Hamburg Dock Strike Over.

Hamburg, Oct. 1.—The 500 dock laborers who went out on strike Monday have resumed work, a compromise arrangement favorable to the strikers having been reached.

MORRISON'S ARREST

Two Warrants Served on Rensselaer County's Treasurer.

CHARGED WITH STEALING $248,671

He Is Ill and Is Guarded at His Home by an Officer—The Arrest at This Time Came as a Surprise to His Friends.

Troy, N. Y., Oct. 1.—The arrest yesterday afternoon of George H. Morrison, county treasurer of Rensselaer county, on the charge of embezzlement, came somewhat as a surprise to his friends, as it was generally understood from the action of the supervisors in demanding an additional bond of $100,000 to be furnished within twenty days under penalty of forfeiture of office, that criminal proceeding would not be instituted before the expiration of that time. Morrison was really arrested on two warrants. The first was obtained by the finance committee of the board of supervisors and charged felony. A warrant was also sworn out by district attorney's officer Maher, charging grand larceny. The two warrants were given to officers who arrived at the residence of Mr. Morrison about the same time. Chief Detective Condon and Officer Maher left this city at 3:15 o'clock to arrest Mr. Morrison at his home in Lansingburg. At 3:20 o'clock Deputy Sheriff Loomis started on the same errand to take Mr. Morrison into custody on complaint of the chairman of the finance committee, Melvin R. Millius. When Deputy Sheriff Loomis reached the Morrison residence Chief Condon and Officer Maher had just arrived and were standing at Mr. Morrison's bedroom door. Dr. F. J. Tompkins, the family physician, and Senator Nussbaum of Albany, Mr. Morrison's attorney, were in the room with him. Chief Detective Condon was then left in charge of Mr. Morrison. In relation to the warrant issued to district attorney's officer Maher, Mr. Millius, chairman of the finance committee of the board of supervisors, said: "District Attorney Keily was invited to act with the finance committee and the committee was to furnish him with information for the securing of a warrant at 3 o'clock. The district attorney agreed to act with and assist the committee, and was to be at Judge Griffith's office at the hour I mentioned. All the information he had he got from the committee, and now he has his own officers swear out a warrant on our statement instead of coming and acting promptly with us as arranged. Mr. Ingalls prepared the complaint, which was verified by me, and we were waiting for the district attorney when the information came to us that the district attorney had secured a warrant on the information of his officer. The information on which the warrant sworn out by Mr Mellius was issued accuses Morrison of appropriating to his own use, or to the use of some other person, without authority of law $248,671.90.

GETTYSBURG BATTLEFIELD.

Additional Tracts of Land for the Reservation Sought by the Government.

Philadelphia, Oct. 1.—The United States government has filed a petition in the United States circuit court here asking in behalf of the United States to have condemned five additional tracts of land in Cumberland township, Adams county, needed in preserving the Gettysburg battlefield. The tracts were occupied by the infantry, cavalry and artillery on the 1st, 2d and 3d days of July, 1863. The tracts of land are deemed necessary by the secretary of war for the preservation and marking of the lines of battle of the union and confederate armies at Gettysburg, and of opening, improving and repairing necessary roads and avenues on the battlefield.

Cranberry Crop Will Be Small.

Springfield, Mass., Oct. 1. — The American Agriculturist in its issue of this week will say: With the exception of two years ago, the cranberry crop of 1896 is the smallest in the past eleven years and is only half that of the bumper crop of '93, New Jersey's portion being almost a complete failure. The loss in crop yield falls almost altogether on New Jersey. New England will this season furnish by far the bulk of the merchantable berries. In New Jersey everything points to a yield of merchantable fruit for the entire state of less than 90,000 bushels compared with 210,000 in '95.

Death of Dr. George D. Cox.

Philadelphia, Oct. 1.—Dr. George D. Cox, the veteran journalist, romancer, translator and litterateur, is dead of consumption of the throat at his home in this city. Dr. Cox's wife and daughter survive. He was born in Burlington, N. J., in 1843. He came to Philadelphia as a boy and his whole life work has had journalism or literature for its scene. As dramatic critic and dramatic editor he has been connected with most of the prominent papers of this city.

Internal Revenue Receipts.

Washington, Oct. 1.—The receipts from internal revenue yesterday were $249,509; from customs, $[illegible], and miscellaneous, $89,167.

GREAT DESTRUCTION

Only Ruin Marks the Storm's Path in Pennsylvania.

NIGHT OF TERROR FOR MANY PEOPLE

Mine Property Destroyed and Homes and Factories Wrecked or Damaged—A Million Dollar Bridge Carried Away—Railroads Washed Out.

Philadelphia, Oct. 1.—From many parts of the state belated reports telling of the great destruction wrought by the fierce storm of Wednesday night and yesterday morning are now coming in. The destruction at many points is far greater than was at first believed, and the loss will run into the hundreds of thousands. At Harrisburg the scene was one of demolition and destruction. The mark of the whirlwind that passed over that city will not be effaced in a month or a year. As the storm increased in fury there were scores of people in the city who went to their cellars and prayed that the fate of St. Louis might not be in store for Harrisburg. There were thousands who sat shuddering until morning waiting for the fury of the wind and rain to abate. At 12:40 a ball of fire, to observers as large as a September sun, flashed out into the blackness from the southwest, and hung for a full minute in the angry heaven. Those who saw it say that it died away slowly. After this the worst was over. Trees were uprooted and blown down, houses unroofed, sign boards demolished and the streets were filled with debris. There was hardly an avenue or a street that was not filled with tree limbs and wreckage.

Damage on Gettysburg Field.

The storm in Adams county did tremendous damage to houses, barns, timber and fencing, but no casualties are reported. On the Gettysburg Battle field, the national cemetery suffered very severely. Round Top and Culps Hill are a mass of broken trees and the new iron observatory on Cemetery Ridge was injured. The monument of the Sixty-sixth Ohio regiment was completely overturned.

Houses and Barns Wrecked.

At Lebanon later reports show that the damage by the storm was far greater than at first supposed. In addition to the round house of the Lebanon & Cornwall Railroad company being demolished, that of the Cornwall railroad met with a similar fate. The losses sustained by these two companies will run into the thousands of dollars. The United Brethren church at Annville was wrecked and the Sunnyside mills were unroofed. A part of the roof of the United Brethren church in Lebanon was carried away as well as those of the dwellings of Joseph Strohman and F. H. Fertiff. At the Iron City brewery the boiler and engine houses were levelled to the ground, the top of the steeple of Salem Lutheran church was broken. The old brick furnace at North Lebanon used for storage purposes is a mass of ruins. Wilson Christman and his family, residing near Copps rolling mill, had a most thrilling escape. They had just left the house when one of the walls collapsed filling their sleeping apartments with a mass of brick and mortar. The steeple of the Reformed church at Jonestown was blown away and the steeple of the Suedburg church was twisted out of shape. The roundhouse at Tremont was wrecked and several engines damaged. As far as can be learned no one was seriously injured, but the oldest people say they never experienced anything like it. It was a night of terror.

Coal Company's Heavy Loss.

At Shamokin buildings were destroyed and property of every description laid waste for miles. The heaviest loser is the Patterson Coal company, whose colliery is situated at Natalie, a mining village situated six miles east of this city. Fourteen houses were totally destroyed, seven by fire and seven by the storm. The stables connected with the colliery were blown down and thirty mules killed outright. The breaker was almost entirely demolished, causing a loss of over $60,000 to the Patterson Coal company. John Chalmers was fatally injured and Mrs. Savineski had a limb fractured trying to rescue her baby, which was fatally injured and has since died. At Deibler's Station the United Brethren church was totally destroyed by the storm.

Penn Road Badly Crippled.

General Superintendent Sheppard of the Pennsylvania railroad, whose office is at Altoona, says the road has suffered great damage at many points and that trains will be more or less delayed for several day. The greatest single loss to the Pennsylvania Railroad company is the bridge across the Susquehanna river at Columbia, nothing being left of it but the piers, the iron span in the middle, and the first span at each end. The bridge was a mile and a quarter long, and was said to be the longest covered bridge in the world. It cost $1,000,000 and was built in 1869. Columbia appears to have suffered more than any other section of the county. The people became terror-stricken and left the upper stories of their homes until the storm subsided. The damage in the borough is estimated at $500,000, and the streets were filled with parts of the wrecked buildings. Not one of the many big manufacturing plants along the river escaped injury. The wrecked bridge, which was lifted bodily from its piers, lies in the river above the piers. The terrific force of the storm at Columbia is shown by the fact that timbers of the bridge were carried by the wind up as far as the tunnel on the Pennsylvania railroad, a full mile away. Reports from the surrounding country are very distressing, but no loss of life has been reported.

30 OR 40 PEOPLE KILLED.

A Hurricane Cuts Through Florida and Causes Great Damage.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 1.—The Constitution has received a dispatch from Jacksonville, Fla., saying that a hurricane cut through that state late last night and that thirty or forty people were killed. Several school houses were wrecked and children were the greatest victims. The dispatch adds that twenty or thirty towns were wiped out of existence.

THE VENEZUELAN DISPUTE.

Report from London That a Satisfactory Settlement Has Been Reached.

London, Oct. 1.—The Chronicle in a leading article says: "We have reason to believe that a satisfactory settlement has been arrived at of the Venezuelan question and that an arbitration treaty is imminent." The wording of the foregoing does not suggest that the statement is inspired. Everybody believes that the boundary dispute will be settled, but such steps will not be taken pending the report of the American Venezuelan commission. Only the permanent officials of the foreign and colonial offices are on duty in those departments at the present time and they will act in merely routine matters until the return of the ministers. Lord Salisbury is too busy with Turkey now to attend to Venezuela even if Secretary Olney should press the Venezuela matter. No such action on the part of Mr. Olney is expected at present, however, as it would be a slight to President Cleveland's commission.

MACHINERY FOR RUSSIA.

An Entire Plant for the Building of Locomotives Shipped from Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Oct. 1.—An entire locomotive building plant, valued at $375,000, has been shipped to St. Petersburg, Russia, on the British steamer Laleham. The plant is owned by the Russian-American company, and is to be erected at Nijni-Novgorod, the commercial centre of the interior of the Russian empire. The plant will be operated in connection with the car and steam-boiler manufactory at Sarmova. In addition to this the pipe plant of Morris Tasker & Co. of this city, will soon leave on the British steamer Henley for Novorossick, on the Black sea. A number of men from this country will go to Russia to start the works.

40,000 MORE TROOPS FOR CUBA.

Spain Will Also Send Additional Forces to the Philippine Islands.

Madrid, Oct. 1.—The government has decided to send 40,000 more troops to Cuba to reinforce the Spanish army on the island, and also to strengthen the forces in Porto Rico and the Philippine islands with 2,000 and 3,000 men respectively. A free pardon has been offered to all who have evaded service in the army, upon provision that they return and complete their terms of service. Advices from Havana say the insurgents have executed the rebel Rodriguez by hanging. The reason for the act is not stated.

BRYAN IN WEST VIRGINIA.

Railroad Washouts Will Necessitate Several Changes in His Itinerary.

Grafton, W. Va., Oct. 1.—It was 11:10 o'clock last night before William J. Bryan arrived here, the delay being caused by the numerous washouts on the railroads caused by yesterday morning's storm. It is likely that his itinerary through this state will be subject to some changes on account of the storm. He made several speeches yesterday and was met by a big crowd on his arrival here.

An Appeal to Massachusetts Charity.

Boston, Oct. 1.—Mrs. Susan Fessenden, president of the Massachusetts Women's Christian Temperance union has received a cablegram from Miss Frances Willard desiring Massachusetts to entertain thirty Armenians until work can be found. Miss Willard in her cable message said: "These poor people are dying in Marseilles."

Football Season at Yale Opened.

New Haven, Conn., Oct 1.—The football season was opened at Yale yesterday afternoon with Amherst as a visiting attraction. The Massachusetts team gave Yale a hard argument, allowing the blue only two touchdowns the first and none the second half, the final score being Yale, 12; Amherst, 0.

Tandem Hour Record Broken.

London, Oct. 1.—At the new Crystal Palace track yesterday the bicyclists McFregor and Nelson beat the tandem hour record, covering 31 miles and 610 yards. The distance from the twenty-fourth mile to the finish was also covered in less than previous record time.

SOUDAN CAMPAIGN

No Advance South of Dongola To Be Made This Year.

THE PROVINCE WILL BE HELD

Stragetic Points To Be Permanently Strengthened and Gunboats Will Patrol the River—Other Improvements To Be Pushed.

London, Oct. 1.—It is semi-officially announced that no advance of the Anglo-Egyptian expedition south of Dongola is contemplated during 1895. The whole province of Dongola will be held, and Korti and El Dabbeh, strategic points south of and on the road to Dongola, will be permanently garrisoned, and gunboats will patrol the river. The province of Dongola will be reorganized. British-Egyptian administrators will be appointed, a police force will be established, only British troops with machine guns and gunners will be kept to the front, the railway will be completed to Kaibar, at the last cataract north of Dongola, and the work will be done under the supervision of British engineers. It is explained that further advance at present is impossible owing to the condition of the Egyptian finances. The Chronicle says that the ministerial committee of national defence has been summoned to London for the end of the week to consider affairs connected with the Soudan. It is probable that Field Marshal Wolseley, commander-in-chief of the army, will be in attendance.

ENTERTAINED THE CHAMPIONS.

The Baltimore Team Dined and Given a Benefit Performance Last Night.

Baltimore, Oct. 1.—The champion baseball team had a busy day and a benefit last night. The boys returned early in the morning from a barnstorming tour in Pennsylvania, and played an exhibition game of ball with the Catonsville County club at the Casino grounds yesterday afternoon. The team was entertained at dinner at the club house, and then went to their benefit performance at Ford's opera house. Mr. Ford dedicated his house for the night to the pennant winners and arranged an attractive programme. A big crowd assembled. The performance included a song of "How they won the pennant," and stereopticon views of each player in uniform and in characteristic position. To-day the first temple cup game will be played.

Fatal Theater Fire and Panic.

Aberdeen, Oct. 1.—During the progress of the performance in the People's Palace Variety in this city last evening a fire broke out and the audience was thrown into a panic and made a rush for the exits. A number of those present were seriously burned, and others were crushed by the wild endeavors of the frantic crowd to reach the street. At least forty persons were injured, four of them fatally. Several persons are reported to be missing. The building was completely gutted by the flames.

Will Not Use Meyers Ballot Machines.

Mt. Vernon, N. Y., Oct. 1.—The common council of this city held a special meeting last night and on advice of corporation counsel David Swits decided not to use the Meyers ballot machine at the national election in November. The corporation counsel decided that the machine would invalidate the election, as the law gives the voter the right to vote for or against any elector, or for any person he may choose for any office. This cannot be done with the ballot machines.

Designated as Associate Justice.

Albany, Oct. 1.—Gov. Morton has designated Justice George B. Bradley of Corning, N. Y., as associate justice of the appellate division, supreme court, in the second judicial department, in the place made vacant by the death of Justice Calvin E. Pratt. During Justice Pratt's illness and since his death the place has been occupied by Justice Morgan J. O'Brien, of New York city, under a temporary designation.

Grain Riots in India.

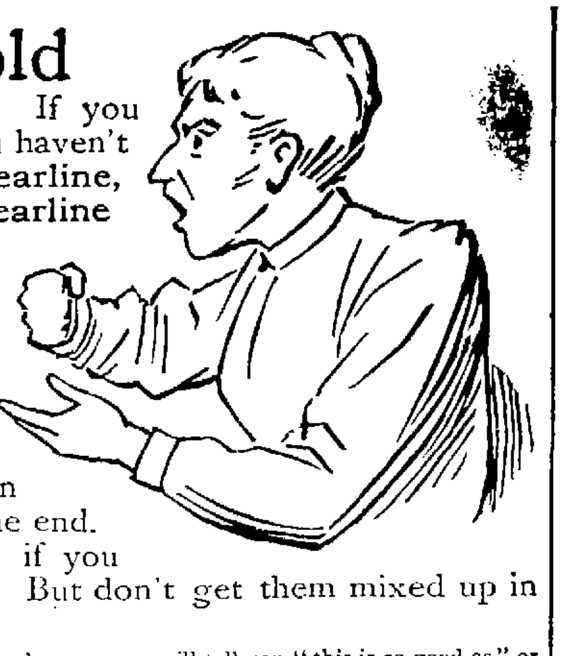
Bombay, Oct. 1.—A serious condition of affairs exists in the provinces of northern and central India on account of the continued drought. Grain riots have taken place in several centres, and further trouble is apprehended. The authorities have taken every precaution to suppress disorder, and are taking all the steps available to relieve the distress existing.

Wants Damages for False Imprisonment.

Providence, Oct. 1.—George Cherterman, the New York clubman, has brought suit for $10,000 against Chief of Police Champlin of Narragansett Pier for false imprisonment. He was arrested September 3 on the complaint of William J. Conley, who charged him with larceny of two notes. He was discharged at Jefferson Market court for lack of evidence.

Another Raines Special Agent.

Albany, Oct. 1.—State Excise Commissioner Lyman has appointed E. Alward Manchester of Aurora as a special excise agent under the Raines law.



Don't Scold

about washing powders. If you feel like it, it's because you haven't got the right kind. Get Pearline, and see the difference. Pearline has been imitated — but never been equalled. There are all kinds of imitations; powders that save work, but ruin clothes; powders that don't hurt, and don't help you; powders that are cheap to begin with, but dear enough in the end. Try them all for yourself, if you won't take our word for it. But don't get them mixed up in your mind with Pearline.

Send it Back Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back. 319 JAMES PYLE, New York.

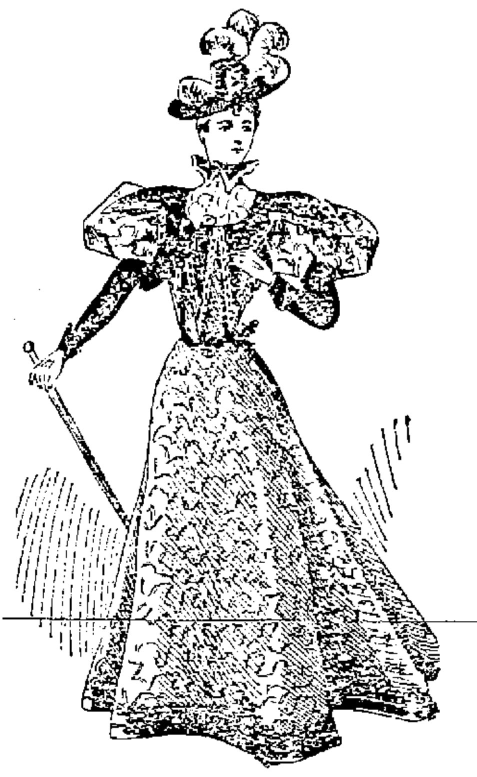
Autumn and Early Winter Styles Please the Eye.

Skirts Are Narrower Than of Yore and Sleeves Are Assuming Reasonable Proportions—Natty Wraps for the Intermediate Season.

[Special Chicago Letter.]

The fall and early winter styles are out, and many of them are pleasing and smart-looking to a degree. Some of the new gowns and wraps are immensely chic, and, best of all, so varied in design and material that if one but has the price the matter of selection easily cares for itself.

Skirts are cut considerably narrower than during the summer, and the best dressmakers have set their faces resolutely against an interlining. They take the ground that one is quite unnecessary with skirts less than four and a half yards in circumference; and with heavy-weight material this is surely true. I am sorry to note a tendency toward the train, it being particularly noticeable in models bearing the Paris stamp. In these models the train, or, more properly speaking, the demitrain, is protected from contact from the ground by a heavy ruche of silk, plaited and quilled, as only the French can do it.

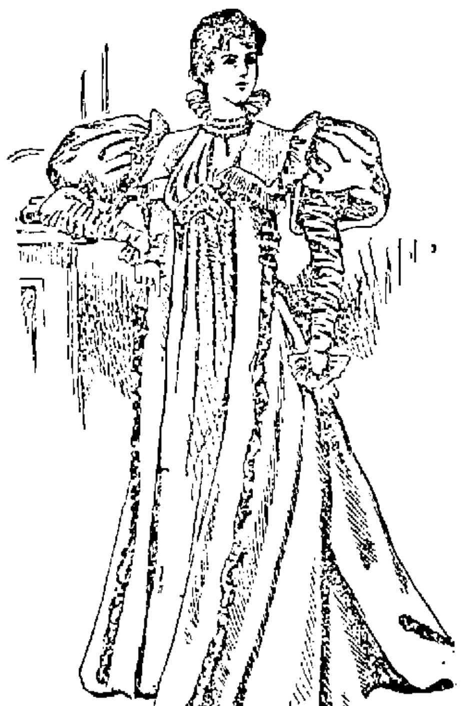


STYLISH FALL GOWN.

It may be an interesting item to learn that on the best street gowns the leather binding is no longer used. At best this was cumbersome and very difficult to adjust, save by the hand of the expert. In its place tailors are using a heavy corduroy binding put on to show an eighth of an inch below the bottom of the skirt. It holds the skirt from the feet in the most perfect manner and is in no way like the velvet binding of other days.

It seems to be settled that all the modifications possible are to be introduced in the new sleeve. The one seen most frequently so far is a long, close-fitting one — but not skin-tight — slightly wrinkled below the elbow, with all sorts of puffs and frills set in at the armhole to reconcile the friends of the big sleeve to its gradual passing away. The once-popular coat sleeve is seen on many of the best models.

It seems good for us to realize once more the meaning of symmetry and cut in a sleeve, for it is generally agreed by the knowing ones that the exaggerated designs worn during the past year have, despite their appearance to the contrary, been on the whole easy to arrange. A plait more or less made no difference, and it was usually a matter of some uncertainty to the expert as well as the amateur as to what the ultimate result would really be. Now, however, it will be very different. Sleeves will need be fitted and dressmakers will be asked to observe some rule and regulation in the cut; also in the manner of mounting them into the armhole.



A CHARMING TEA GOWN.

In the matter of fabrics, velvet reigns supreme. No winter wardrobe can be called complete without a velvet gown, and to obtain one will doubtless be the ambition of every well-dressed woman. The French modiste declares it to be the one and only material for very swell occasions, and when garnitured with rare old lace it certainly does make a most regal-looking gown. And that it is generally becoming to the complexion and sets off the figure to splendid advantage takes nothing from its charm.

Silk is also enjoying a vast amount of popularity and will be in still greater demand as the winter advances. The heaviest weaves showing thick cords will be mostly in favor.

Moires and richly brocaded satins with raised flowers of contrasting hues will be used for dresses as well as for trimming on plain silks.

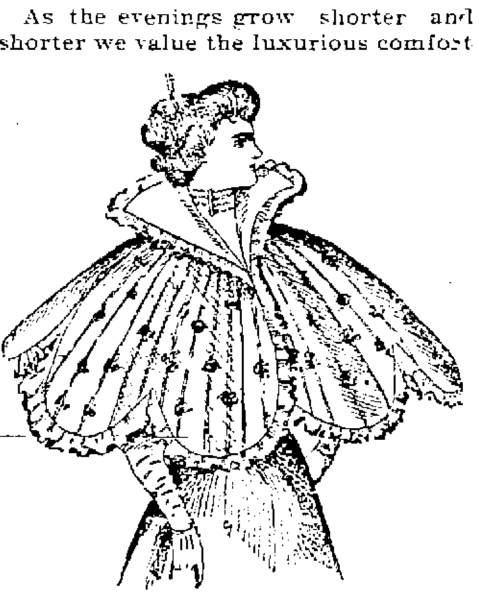
When the pattern is too showy and striking the best dressmakers veil it under net which enhances its beauty to a marked degree. One I saw within the week treated in this manner was a black satin ground with a raised floral design in yellow roses veiled under the finest black net, the shimmer of the yellow against the contrasting black producing a wonderfully beautiful effect.

From reliable quarters comes the rumor that plain cloths will obtain the largest share of favor during the coming autumn and winter months, but I am much mistaken if the fancy silk and wool mixtures and lovely camel's hair cloth, to say nothing of the ever-useful tweed, do not have a persuasive word to say for themselves. A smartly-built gown of gray tweed is difficult to beat for everyday wear, and the same may be said of the new salt-and-pepper mixture with its natty trimming of black braiding.

Speaking of braiding, reminds me that the wise woman will employ her idle hours in braiding for herself a tiny bolero, for the braided bolero jacket is quite the proper thing at the present moment. It threatens to be an indispensable adjunct of all waists, no matter what the material. It admits of all sorts of ornamentation, but just now preference is given to braiding in rather elaborate patterns and in sharply contrasting colors. Some of the boleros are square at the back, with pointed fronts; others are very short and rounded, and a few are slit up the back and trimmed accordingly. The most charming, I think, are in light colored cloth or delicately printed velvet, with chiffon or mousseline de soie fronts and high, folded crush belts. When made in this fashion they will be worn with separate skirts, and will doubtless, in a measure at least, replace the ever-useful blouse.

Every woman who can afford it is going to have a velvet shirt waist this season. Not the ill-fitting, ready-made affair bought at the dry-goods store, but one fashioned by a first-class tailor, made over a boned lining with perfection written in every seam and curve. The color most sought after for these shirts is blue. In fact there is a perfect craze for blue, either light, medium or dark; and combine it how and with what one pleases, a blue velvet shirt waist is as necessary as a silken lining, and the up-to-date women will observe the unwritten law which says it must be worn with white collars and cuffs.

As the evenings grow shorter and shorter we value the luxurious comfort of the tea gown more and more. It is of all gowns the most capable of much variety, and is really the only one on which a woman can let her fancy for ornamentation run absolutely riot. A successful tea gown does not necessarily mean an expensive one, one of the prettiest ones I have seen being made out of an evening gown grown passe, the worn places deftly hidden by soft lace and dainty ribbon bows. Among the most desirable materials for this ideal garment are crepe de chine, fine cashmere, soft shining silk, and last, but not least, the lovely printed velveteens that seem made expressly for this purpose and are most suitable for winter wear.



THE LATEST EVENING CLOAK.

The model in the picture shows a handsome and becoming style, and one particularly pleasing if made of velveteen, although in this instance it was fashioned in cashmere with chiffon trimmings.

Despite the fact that sleeves diminish in size, capes are made fuller than ever. Those for dressy wear grow constantly shorter, but for everyday street wear they are cut full and flowing, falling low over the hips, altogether presenting a most comfortable appearance. Little capes of colored velvet, with double ruches of lace about the edge and lined with delicately tinted satin damask, are wonderfully chic and are close rivals to those of black velvet with collars of Honiton lace. By the way, Honiton lace applique is the very newest thing, and narrow strips of Honiton insertion are put on many of the new outer garments in every conceivable manner.

The cape in the picture is one intended solely for evening wear. It is made of cream-tinted satin, brocaded in pink roses and trimmed with full frills of cream-colored chiffon.

There is not much change in the autumn jacket from those worn last spring, only the sleeves are much smaller and the skirt is fully two inches longer.

Eton jackets are seen now in great numbers and will be worn until cold weather sets in. The most stylish are made of seal, and the back is so designed as to show the colored belt worn with the skirt. While about the jauntiest thing seen thus far, only the tall, slender woman with an unusually long waist can wear them successfully.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

An Ancient City.

A prehistoric city, which apparently had a population of over 200,000, was discovered recently in Mexico by J. R. Reiley, an American archaeologist. This ancient city is situated in a narrow valley between two high ranges of mountains. Nearly all the buildings are of brown stone, and are in a state of almost perfect preservation.—N. Y. Sun.

A ROYAL DAIRY.

How the Milk, Butter and Cheese of a Princess Are Housed.

The dairy of the princess of Wales is, according to the Gentlewoman, a haunt to dream of on a warm summer's day. Like her sister, the empress of Austria, the princess positively revels in a dairy. And the prince once, during her absence from home, wishing to prepare a little surprise for her, had the walls decorated with tiles which he had brought home with him from Bombay, tiles of dark blue, ornamented with a design of roses, shamrock and thistle, and the motto, "Ich bien." A long milkpan painted with the same design by Princess Louise of Lorne is here in a corner and in another corner you see the head of the princess' favorite Alderney, with an inscribed silver plate telling of her virtue and renown.

As for the treasures which lie scattered about on shelf and bracket, they are too many to count. A silver churn, often used by the princess herself; models of cows and calves in silver, alabaster, porcelain and terra cotta—all gifts to the princess—and other knick-knacks too numerous to mention. When the prince and princess are at Marlborough house a number of tiny pats of butter are sent up daily from Sandringham for their use. The prince is "faddy" about his butter, and likes it to be just perfection.

Condensed Testimony.

Chas. B. Hood, Broker and Manufacturer's Agent, Columbus, Ohio, certifies that Dr. King's New Discovery has no equal as a Cough remedy. J. D. Brown, Prop. St. James Hotel, Ft. Wayne, Ind., testifies that he was cured of a cough of two years standing caused by LaGrippe, by Dr. King's New Discovery. B. F. Merrill, Baldwinsville, Mass., says that he has used and recommended it and never knew it to fail and would rather have it than any doctor, because it always cures. Mrs. Hemming, 222 E. 25th St., Chicago, always keeps it at hand and has no fear of Croup, because it instantly relieves. Free Trial Bottles at McMonagle & Rogers' Drug Store.

Many lives of usefulness have been cut short by neglect to break up an ordinary cold. Pneumonia, bronchitis and even consumption can be averted by the prompt use of One Minute Cough Cure. W. D. Olney.

Tetter, eczema and all similar skin troubles are cured by the use of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It soothes at once and restores the tissues to their natural condition, and never fails to cure piles. W. D. Olney.

Many political speakers, clergymen, singers and others who use the voice excessively, rely upon One Minute Cough Cure to prevent huskiness and laryngitis. Its value as a preventative is only equaled by its power to afford instantaneous relief. W. D. Olney.

Chronic constipation is a painful, disagreeable and life-shortening difficulty. It deranges the system, causes sick headache, bad breath, and poisons the blood. It can be readily overcome by DeWitt's Little Early Risers. These little pills are great regulators. W. D. Olney.

COLLECTING FADS.

The Horrible Custom of Getting Relics of Murderers.

A foreign paper is responsible for the statement that the late Lord Randolph Churchill had a choice private collection of teeth of noted criminals to which he was constantly adding up to a short time before his death, says Temple Bar. The competition for the Deeming relics at the Antipodes is too recent and too revolting to be enlarged upon, but it may be mentioned that the ax and knife with which this unmitigated villain murdered his victim fetched £4 15s. and the spade with which he dug her grave brought a guinea. His clothing was eagerly competed for, even down to half a dozen pairs of patched socks. Indeed, the collectors of "criminal" curios are extremely numerous all over the world, and these mementoes range from Tyburn halters to pipes which murderers have smoked and pots which famous thieves have tossed in honor of past and future triumphs.

It has remained for a Nebraska collector to gather locks of hair shaved from the heads of noted criminals when they enter the penitentiary and these he labels and indexes with great care. Superstition sometimes accounts for the fancy prices offered for such ghastly relics. Frenchmen obtain them as charms against ill-luck. A piece of a hangman's rope is considered a potent spell against evil in some parts of France. As criminals are there guillotined such ropes are difficult to get and so fetch high prices. They are sometimes mounted in gold and worn in lockets.

"ALL THE MAGAZINES IN ONE"

THE REVIEW OF REVIEWS

Edited by ALBERT SHAW.

THE REVIEW OF REVIEWS, as its name implies, gives in readable form the best that appears in the other great magazines all over the world, generally on the same date that they are published. With the recent extraordinary increase of worthy periodicals, these careful reviews, summaries, and quotations, giving the gist of periodical literature, are alone worth the subscription price.

Aside from these departments, the editorial and contributed features of the REVIEW OF REVIEWS are themselves equal in extent to a magazine. The Editor's "Progress of the World" is an invaluable chronicle of the happenings of the thirty days just past, with pictures on every page of the men and women who have made the history of the month.

The Literary World says: "We are deeply impressed from month to month with the value of the 'REVIEW OF REVIEWS,' which is a sort of Eiffel Tower for the survey of the whole field of periodical literature. And yet it has a mind and voice of its own, and speaks out with decision and sense on all public topics of the hour. It is a singular combination of the monthly magazine and the daily newspaper. It is daily in its freshness; it is monthly in its method. It is the world under a field glass."

By order of Assembly Committee.

WM. H. CRANE, }
GABRIEL TUTHILL, } Committee.
GEO. A. DURLAND, }

Has it occurred to you, that not one of those who were responsible for the election steal last spring stood even a ghost of a show for re-nomination in their own party? The five aldermen who by their votes accepted the bill were not mentioned in their caucuses and the Mayor who approved their action and then went back on his promise to the people received only nine votes in the convention.

Theodore Church, who was nominated for Superintendent of the Poor at the Democratic county convention, yesterday, is a well known business man of Goshen who is held in high esteem by all. He is in every way qualified for the difficult and responsible office of superintendent and the interests of the taxpayers and of the poor may both be committed to his keeping with perfect confidence that the trust will be honestly and intelligently discharged.

Every day or two the Republican and assistant Republican papers gleefully announce that the Democratic campaign committee is without funds with which to carry on its work. Fortunately or unfortunately the statement is true and the poverty of the Democrats contrasted with the overflowing wealth of the Republican committee shows the character of the campaign. On the one side is organized wealth insolent, aggressive and unscrupulous, and on the other side the plain people battling valiantly and against tearful odds for the right to enjoy a fair share of the rewards of their labor.

Edwin S. Merrill, who was nominated for Special County Judge by the Democrats of this city, yesterday, is a young man of high character and good abilities, who has secured a good practice and won the respect, esteem and confidence of all who have been brought into personal or professional relations with him. He is in every way qualified for the intelligent discharge of the duties of the office for which he has been named, and no unworthy motive or influence could ever sway him in the performance of any official act. He is an earnest, loyal and devoted Democrat, and as President of the campaign club in this city is doing his best to advance the cause of Democracy

The Springfield Republican which cannot be accused of any sympathy with Bryan says that the excursions to Canton for which the Republican campaign managers are paying serve the purpose of reminding the country that the "Republicans have a candidate in the field other than Mr. Hanna. Otherwise we fear Mr. Hanna would appear as carrying the standard all alone."

REDUCING ITS FORCE.

Conductors and Motormen Laid Off.

The taking off of a car on the Goshen line and one off the cross town line, together with making places for the conductors and motormen who have been on duty at the park during the summer, has made it necessary for the Traction Co. to lay off ten men as regulars and place them on the extra list. In most cases the men laid off are those who have served the shortest length of time.

HOW TO RESTORE PROSPERITY.

From the American.

In only one way can we restore that prosperity to our agricultural classes without which any general revival of business enterprise or of manufacturing activity must be out of the question, and that is by removing the premium on gold as measured by silver which has so handicapped our farmers and planters, and by placing them again on an equal plane with their competitors in competition for the European markets. This can be done in only one way, and that is by restoring bimetallism. Until this step is taken, this step that can alone bring prosperity to our agricultural classes, all attempts to restore prosperity to our people must prove futile.

McKinley is steadfastly opposed to taking it, at least until such time as those who wax rich on our impoverishment may give their consent. Bryan pledges himself to take it. Therefore in Bryan's election stands the salvation of our people from a continuance of the disastrous fall in prices that is inseparable from the gold standard, that is reducing our people to poverty and that must end if unchecked in the virtual enslavement of our producing classes to an aristocracy of wealth. The continued fall in prices draws the fetters of debt more tightly around people. If continued, it must end in the transferrence of all wealth and property to the creditor classes, the upbuilding of a nation of landlords and tenants, of moneyed lords and poverty stricken slaves.

Ill fares the land, to hast'ning ills a prey,
Where wealth accumulates and men decay:
Princes and lords may flourish or may fade;
A breath can make them as a breath has made,
But a bold peasantry, their country's pride
When once destroyed, can never be supply'd

Let us take heed of Goldsmith's beautiful words of warning. Let us no longer pursue that course which enslaves our producing classes, let us rather throw off the fetters that bind them down, let us check the fall in prices that enriches the few at the expense of many, let us strive to emancipate our toiling millions from the serfdom of poverty.

Orangetown—William Springstein.
Ramapo—Seymour Conkling.

Mr. Demarest, of Orange, and Mr. Springstein, of Rockland, were appointed tellers.

Hon. M. N. Kane, of Warwick, in a very eulogistic speech, presented the name of David A. Morrison, of Newburgh, as a candidate for Representative in Congress. He spoke of his qualifications for that high office, of his hearty sympathy with the farmers and the toilers of the district, whose interests would be his interests.

School Commissioner Willard M. Clark seconded the nomination of Mr. Morrison, testifying from intimate personal acquaintance with the gentleman to his ability and integrity and fitness for Congressional place.

Cyrillus Myers, in behalf of the Rockland delegation, seconded the nomination of Mr. Morrison and pledged him the hearty support of the Democrats of Rockland county.

William F. O'Neill, in a stirringly eloquent speech, which was applauded to the echo, seconded Mr. Morrison's nomination, declaring that the time had come when farmers and those in sympathy with them should have representations in the halls of legislation. He eulogized Bryan and the gallant canvass he is making, and assured the delegates that victory in the nation was certain and that the district would be carried if every Democrat did his duty.

There being no other nominations, the secretaries were instructed to cast the ballot of the convention for Mr. Morrison.

A recess of five minutes was taken, and the following Congressional Committee was selected by the delegates:

Orange County, First District, A. S. Embler, Ed. Stocker; Second District, J. I. Bradley, G. H. Decker.

Sullivan County—J. D. Lyon, H. E. Sprague.

Rockland County — W. F. Ackerson, Michael McCabe.

On motion of Mr. McCabe, the chairman appointed the following committee of one from each Assembly district to notify the candidate of his nomination: A. A. McLean, M. N. Kane of Orange, John Connell, of Rockland, and Charles Watson, of Sullivan.

The Congressional Committee was authorized to fill any vacancy that might occur on the ticket.

With hearty cheers for the candidate the convention adjourned.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION

Held at Goshen Yesterday—Edwin S. Merrill for Special County Judge—Theodore Church for Superintendent of Poor.

The Democratic County Convention was held at Goshen, Wednesday afternoon, all the towns and wards in the county being represented.

The convention was called to order by S. D. Roberson, chairman of the County Committee, who nominated Geo. W. Sayer for chairman. Mr. Sayer was unanimously elected and was escorted to the chair by Dr. J. J. Mills, of Port Jervis, and George Cornell, of Woodbury. He expressed his thanks for the honor conferred upon him and proceeded at once with the business of the convention.

Irving D. Washburn, of Woodbury, and John D. Fitzpatrick, of Newburgh, were elected secretaries. The oath was administered to the officers of the convention by Samuel Young, of Cornwall.

After the delegates had presented their credentials nominations for Special County Judge were declared in order.

Dr. J. J. Mills in a few well chosen words nominated Edwin S. Merrill, of this city.

An inquiry was made if Mr. Merrill was in accord with the platform and candidates of the Chicago convention. There were calls for Mr. Merrill, who promptly responded in a short speech in which he said he was not only in accord with the candidates, Bryan and Sewall, but also with every line and syllable of the platform.

Mr. Merrill was heartily cheered and on motion of C. L. Elwood the secretary cast the ballot of the convention for him.

Townsend D. Tuthill nominated Theodore Church, of Goshen, for Superintendent of the Poor.

Z. K. Greene moved that the secretary cast the ballot of the convention for Mr. Church.

The convention, however, wanted to know where Mr. Church stood on the present issues and that gentleman said his position was the same as Mr. Merrill's and he was unanimously nominated.

T. J. Bierne, of Deerpark, moved that the old county committee be retained in office until the close of the year. The motion was not seconded and objections were expressed by many as it was understood some were not sound in their Democracy and the sooner they were got rid of the better for the party.

The members of the new County Committee were announced as follows:

Blooming Grove—Thomas Fulton, Washingtonville.
Chester—J. H. Board, Chester.
Cornwall—Charles Ketcham, Mountaindale.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY COMMITTEE

Officers Elected Yesterday—Encouraging Reports from Several of the Towns.

The new Democratic County Committee met at the Occidental Hotel in Goshen immediately after the adjournment of the County Convention, yesterday. S. D. Roberson, of Crawford, was reelected Chairman, and Thomas Fulton, of Blooming Grove, was elected Secretary.

The committee then spent some time in listening to reports concerning the political situation throughout the county. In several towns a careful canvass shows that while all the regular Democrats will support the Chicago ticket, large gains will be secured from the Republican and Prohibition ranks.

Every member of the new committee is in hearty accord with the national ticket and platform, and will do efficient work during the remainder of the campaign.

MRS. JOHN M. PALMER.

The Talented Wife of the Leader of the Gold Democracy.

Mrs. John M. Palmer is 59 years of age. Her maiden name was Hannah Mather Lamb. Her father was James L. Lamb, an early settler of Springfield, Ill., and for many years one of the leading business men of the city. He acquired considerable wealth, and his family enjoyed such advantages as wealth can bestow. She was graduated at Monticello seminary, and is a lady of superior education and refinement. When quite young she was united in marriage to Leigh Kimball, a railroad man, who died a few years afterward. She remained a widow for 30 years, and about nine years ago was married to Gen. Palmer, to whom she has been a most devoted wife. She always accompanies him on his "stumping" tours, acts as his amanuensis and has rendered him invaluable assistance in the preparation of his autobiography, on which he has been engaged for several years. She is petite and a brunette, is cordial, vivacious and unassuming. She has never cared for the frivolties of society, and her life has been an active and useful one. For ten or twelve years prior to her marriage to Gen. Palmer she was city librarian, and as such enjoyed a fine opportunity to gratify her taste for reading. Since her marriage she has found plenty to do in assisting her distinguished husband. She was reared in the Presbyterian church, and was for years a teacher in the Sabbath school. After her marriage she united with the Baptist church, in which her husband held membership. Her character is a lovely one, and it may truthfully be said of her that "none know her but to love her; none name her but to praise." Mrs. Palmer was with her husband at the state convention at Chicago, and at Indianapolis. She accompanies him on all of his political missions.

BICYCLE WITH WINGS.

Flying Attachment Enables Wheelmen to Mount in the Air.

If the wheel isn't fast enough for you, why, fly.

It seems as though the old fairy legend of the seven league boots would come true before this century ends.

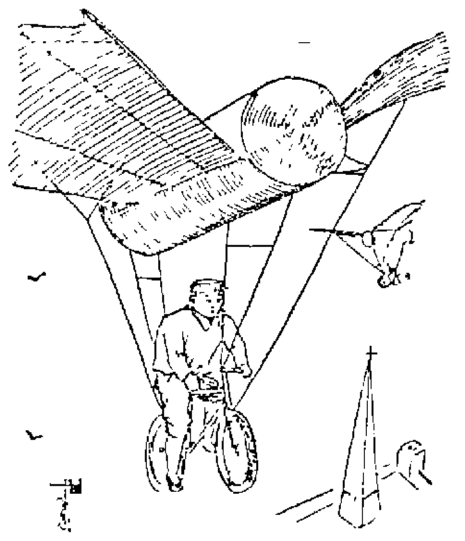
The bicycle has multiplied many fold the speed possible in personal locomotion. Distance has been divided by 100.

But that isn't enough. No week passes but there appears some new device, intended to lighten the labor and accelerate the speed of the wheel.

The latest of these is a bicycle flying machine. Experiment has just been made with this wonderful machine, and the results, the inventor says, make ordinary cycling seem as ancient and clumsy as a jolting journey in the wagons of our grandfathers.

The man who has devised this wonderful machine, says the New York Journal, is Charles Sigors, a young machinist. There is no joke about it. He considers the bicycle flying machine an altogether practical proposition and has filed application for patents to protect it.

The flying machine attachment is to be fastened to the handle bar of the bicycle. The wings will be of canvas, stretched over aluminium frames. They will be eight feet long and about four feet in width. They will be rectangular in shape and one will be fastened on each side of the air cylinder, which will be in the center.



THE WHEEL WITH WINGS.

In the cylinder lies the secret of the success of the device. It will be four feet in length, with a diameter of 15 inches. It will be constructed of aluminium and some alloy of sufficient resistance to allow 100 pounds pressure of compressed air to the square inch.

Before the wheelman starts out the air will be pumped in, and the inventor declares that when the cylinder is filled the buoyancy will counteract the weight of the apparatus, and render the propulsion of the wheel perfectly easy.

A City of Potato Diggers.

Kallis, Pomerania, is in the center of a great potato-raising country. In the fall the entire population of the city, between 3,000 and 4,000, shut up their houses and leave their keys with the mayor and scatter out to help with the potato harvest. Travelers who have visited the place in the fall declare that they found the town without a single inhabitant, except the mayor and the bell-ringer.

Thrifty and Thriftless Alike Find the Scheme Satisfactory.

"Twenty thousand overcoats have been taken out of pawn during the past week," said a pawnbroker to a Chicago Times-Herald reporter. "The cooler weather has forced us to unlock our cedar chests and undo the bundles which have been packed away in camphor. During the next month, unless the weather becomes warmer, as many more overcoats will be taken from the pawnshops.

"No, it is not because they are poverty-stricken that so many men have overcoats in pawn during the summer. Of course, if a man wants to pawn anything, there is nothing that he should be more likely to 'soak' during the summer months than his unnecessary overcoat. At the same time many of the overcoats are left with us merely that they may be protected against the moths, who thrive during the summer, and to prevent them from accumulating dust as they would while lying in closets. A man can pawn his overcoat for two dollars, and have it with us until he needs it in the fall, and it costs him but 50 cents.

"Of course it is a good deal of trouble for us, but we are able to make it pay us well, and the temptation to a man who is improvident is to borrow more than a nominal sum on his coat, and, of course, he has to pay more interest

"A great many dress suits are also pawned each summer to preserve them until needed in October. They are worn very little in the summer, and the same reason that leads to the pawning of overcoats operates in their case."

QUAKER OF THE ORIENT.

The Herculean Turkish Porter Whose Place of Business Is on the Street.

The Turkish porter is one of the most interesting objects seen in a tour of the orient. Of Herculean strength and power of endurance, he is usually prompt and obliging, also honest so far as in him lies. He cannot speak the truth, and would not respect himself if he could, for that is a virtue of the Frank.

His place of business, says the Chicago Times-Herald, is on the streets of his native town, where he can be found at all hours of the day, clad in a loose soiled jacket, usually gray, with gray gaiters, Turkish shoes or sandals, the inevitable fez and a neckerchief that makes him look as if he were strangling.

All the burden of conveying large or small articles falls upon him and he will for a gratuity carry a piano as easily as a trunk. He is the most contented of the working fraternity one meets abroad, whether he is found in the streets of Constantinople or in those of Stamboul, and the tourists make much of him because he is interesting, his occasional smoke under the shade of a mulberry tree, or his lazy sips of sherbet, being treats that renew his strength for the hard work by which he must live—if he is not able to sell merchandise. Being sturdy and industrious, the traits of the Turkish porter commend him to the public, hence a picturesque description of him by one traveler who named him the "Quaker of the Orient."

WATER PIPES GUARD CONVICTS.

When Prisoners Cut the Pipes Water Escapes and Guards Are Thereby Alarmed.

A new idea in jail construction has recently been successfully tested in Boston. In brief, the scheme is to construct the cells of hollow pipes and fill them with water. When a pipe is severed the water escapes, and by a system of registers in the office of the jail the fact is made known, as well as the particular cell where the pipes have been attacked. No attempt is made to have the pipes particularly hard. Common gas pipe is as good as any and will answer every purpose. The water is kept under a high pressure so that it will be sure to give the alarm when the pipe is severed.

Under the usual system of jail construction it is aimed to make the bars so hard that saws will not affect them, or, at best, so hard that cutting would be a slow progress. But convicts in jails are as clever as the men who construct jail cells, and methods have been discovered for taking the temper out of the hardest steel. Nitric acid will do, and so will common candle. If the flame of the latter is kept for several days close against a bar of chilled steel it will be made so soft that a common steel saw will cut it. Solid steel plates have been eaten with acids and escape made possible. The filling of hollow pipes with water seems to be a good thing.

CAUSTIC IN MOTHS.

Discovery of the Substance Used in Escaping from Cocoons.

A most remarkable entomological discovery has been announced by Oswald Latter, the great naturalist. It is to the effect that the imago of the moth Dicranura vinula secretes a pure caustic potash which it uses to penetrate the tough silken bag or cocoon in which it is inclosed, says the St. Louis Republic.

Caustic potash is, as most everyone knows, a powerful caustic which destroys skin and flesh when brought in contact with it. That it should be secreted or formed in the mouth or internal anatomy of any living creature is so singular and unlikely that the entomologists were at first inclined to disbelieve the story as related by Mr. Latter, in telling of his discovery.

It has long been known that this particular species of moth used some kind of liquid with which to soften the cocoon when he arrived at the age when nature hinted that it was time to get rid of the silken envelope, but Mr. Latter's experiments have for the first time disclosed the nature of that liquid. Prof. Latter made this singular discovery by clipping the ends from cocoons and catching the liquid when it was ejected. This he subjected to chemical analysis.

F MOULE

A FEW WORDS REGARDING THE EYESIGHT.

We all desire to possess as good a vision as possible, and to have it last us far in life as we can, but when such is not the case we lose what is of the utmost value to us and grope along in ignorance of the blessings of normal vision. If your eyes are all right then you have a reason to be thankful, but unless they have been examined, even though the sight may appear correct, there are sometimes latent conditions, which, if corrected at once, would prevent much trouble in later years. Headache, pain over the eyes and watery and inflamed lids are in most every case due to imperfect refraction and the timely use of properly fitted glasses give the only relief and preserve the eyes from further strain. Having studied and practiced the science of optics for years we have good authority for saying that we are fully competent to take care of your case. What is Your Comparison? We are prepared to show you what your vision is FREE OF CHARGE.

starving children

There are children without food. They cry for it, and are not answered. The pity of it! But often nature cries out in other ways that her children need nourishment. Is your child thin; actually poor in flesh? Does it get no benefit from its food? Then give something which produces flesh and makes rich blood.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil, with Hypophosphites does more than this. It changes the unhealthy action to one of health, thus removing the cause. It acts on the nervous system, which controls all the processes of the body, toning it up into sound and vigorous activity. It is food for growing bone and brain. It makes the thin plump; the pale, ruddy; the weak, strong; it feeds and cures.

SCOTT'S EMULSION has been indorsed by the medical profession for twenty years. (Ask your doctor.) This is because it is always palatable—always uniform—always contains the purest Norwegian Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites.
Put up in 50 cent and $1.00 sizes. The small size may be enough to cure your cough or help your baby. All druggists.

JUST AS GOOD IS NOT SCOTT'S EMULSION.

An Awful Bad Break.

Mr. Gabbler, who talks much and recklessly, was sitting at a dinner party by the side of Mrs. Portly Pompous, who was very old and fat. During the conversation Gabbler, forgetting that the lady weighed 250 pounds, said: "I despise fat women." He perceived at once what a bad break he had made, and attempted to set himself right by saying: "I beg your pardon. I despise fat women, but only when they are young."

The look Mrs. Pompous gave him will haunt him in his grave.—Texas Sifter.

Tom Reed's Wit.

An important party measure was about to be voted on in the Fifty-first congress and the republicans needed every vote.

"Come at once," Speaker Reed telegraphed to Congressman Lansing, of the Watertown (N. Y.) district.

"Impossible," the congressman wired back; "washout on line."

Reed's reply to this was promptly wired and was as follows: "Never mind little thing like that; buy another shirt and come on."—N. Y. Herald.

Delicate Point.

"What sort of a crowd is this I am to address to-night?" asked the orator, anxiously. "Is it inclined to religion or somewhat sporty?"

"Darn if I can say," said the member of the reception committee.

"I wish you would find out. I would like to know whether to use the expression 'a new dispensation' or 'a new deal.'"—Indianapolis Journal.

A Farm Hand's Reverie.

The beauties of the starry night,
The glories of the morn,
The holy hush of twilight hours,
When evening is born
May please the poets well enough
To make a silly rhyme,
But as for me I much prefer
The charm of dinner time.
—T. S. Varnum, in Chicago Journal.

Johnny Was Right.

A teacher giving lessons on physical force, when he had finished, asked: "Now, boys, can any of you tell me what force it is that moves people along the street?"

He was greatly surprised and the class highly amused, at receiving from one of the boys the unexpected answer: "Please, sir, the police force."—Tit-Bits.

What Jack Hubbard Did.

Little Jack Hubbard went to the cupboard and "swiped" thence a big custard pie. His mother had said before going to bed: "I can make pie-crust short when I try."

When morning came round Mrs. H. quickly found that Jack had been there on the sly, and, instead of short crust, to her utmost disgust she was short of the whole bloomin' pie.—N. Y. World.

And It Was Even So.

"All afflictions have their compensations," murmured the man whose leg had been pulled, as he looked at that elongated member.

"That leg will have more pendulous force with which to lift the next man who tries to work me for a sucker."—Truth.

Important Source of Information.

"Dr. Stickem," said the physician's assistant, "have you decided whether or not Mr. Payers has appendicitis? You know you ~~said you were~~ were going to read up on his case."

"Ah, yes. I must do so at once. Hand me that copy of Bradstreet's."—Washington Star.

A Discrepancy.

The contrasts that we daily see
Are startling, immense—
The man who talks so learned and free
Of "billions" and "finance" is he
Who borrows twenty cents.
—Washington Star.

A REDEEMING TRAIT.

"I dunno ez the prodigal son was so very bad, after all," said Mrs. Corntossel.

"He wan't no good to his family," her husband rejoined.

"That's a fact. But when he got home he didn't hev no more ter say. If he'd been like most of the men [illegible] the fust thing he'd of done would of been to find fault with the way the fatted calf was cooked."—Washington Star.

Canning Time.

"Yes, fruit is cheap," he said, with a sigh,
In his dingy den downtown.
"But it keeps me busy putting up
For the peaches we're putting down."
—Chicago Tribune.

NEW MACHINE AT WORK

HERE'S THE GRIST IT GROUND OUT LAST NIGHT.

Recorder Bradner Turned Down—Berry Had a Walkover—Mance Gets There Easy—Fellows Receives Half of What He Asked For—The Machine in Excellent Order.

The Republican City Convention was held at the Assembly Rooms, last night. It was called for Judge Powelson's office, but there were so many people who wanted to see how the new machine would work and how the old gang would bear up under its crushing defeat at the primaries that the office was not big enough and an adjournment was taken to the Assembly Rooms, which were nearly filled.

The convention was called to order by D. H. Bailey, Chairman of the City Committee. J. E. Brazee was made chairman, E. B. Quick and P. G. Roosa, secretaries, C. Z. Taylor having declined that honor, and F. A. R. Pronk and Wm. Van Schaick, tellers. Judge Powelson administered the oath to the officers.

An informal ballot for Mayor resulted as follows:

D. W. Berry, 29; A. J. Hornbeck, 1; W. K Stansbury, 9.

The secretary was directed to cast the ballot of the convention for Mr. Berry. In announcing the result the chairman was a little premature, declaring Mr. Berry elected.

Ira Dorrance nominated C. E. Mance for Alderman-at-large and on motion the secretary cast the ballot of the convention for him.

A formal ballot for Recorder was taken which resulted in 22 votes for J. E. Barnes and 15 for J. F. Bradner. Mr. Barnes was declared the nominee.

W. E. Robertson was renominated for City Treasurer, the secretary being directed to cast the ballot for him.

E. R. Russell named as candidates for Water Commissioners, F. O. Tompkins and George W. West.

Very considerable interest was manifested at this point to see if the convention would do the bidding of Mr. Fellows.

E. B. Quick put another candidate in the field in the person of L. S. Wisner.

A ballot was taken for a candidate for the long term, which resulted in 22 votes for Mr. Tompkins and 15 for Mr. West. Mr. Tompkins was declared the nominee for the long term and the secretary was directed to cast the ballot of the convention for Mr. West for the short term.

An informal ballot for Assessor for the long term was taken, which resulted as follows:

S. S. Purvis	11
T. A. March	6
J. F. Bull	2
J. H. Sudderly	18

A formal ballot was then taken with the following result:

Purvis	15
Sudderly	20
March	2

Mr. Sudderly was declared the nominee for the long term.

For the short term W. E. McWilliams nominated Mr. Purvis but Mr. Dayton named J. Frank Bull and what Mr. Dayton said went in that convention as the count of ballots showed. Mr. Bull receiving 21 votes, Mr. Purvis 13 and Mr. March 3.

For members of the Board of Education, W. F. Royce was named for the First Ward; E. T. Hanord and C. W. Martin were re-nominated in the second; Leander C. Purdy was named for the Third Ward.

C. Z. Taylor claimed that the Fourth Ward was entitled to one long term nominee, whereupon Ed. Russel generously allowed his nominee, W. F. Royce, to be named for the short term, and then Mr. Taylor named A. V. N. Powelson for the long term and Daniel Finn for short term for the Fourth Ward.

Charles Faulkner and Fred B. Wood were nominated for Constables, the former receiving the full vote of the convention, Mr. Wood 23 and H. A. Knapp 14.

J. F. Tuthill was named as member of the City Committee for the First Ward; W. E. Robertson for the Second; C. L. Mead for the Third, J. J. Wood for the Fourth.

Mr. Berry was called to the stand. He said:

"I cheerfully thank you for the nomination for Mayor of your city. There is victory in the air. On November 4th (Voice from the platform "November 3d.") "On November 4th," said Mr. Berry in a voice and with a look in the direction of the interruption that meant volumes, "after the ballots shall have been counted it will be known that McKinley is elected, also Black and Woodruff, and Odell and Bedell and the county ticket, and Middletown will show its full quota to the grand result."

Mr. Mance was called out, and after thanking the convention for the nomination said if elected he would serve the city to the best of his ability.

Mr. Barnes was called upon for a speech. He said:

"In accepting this nomination I tender my sincere thanks. I have no doubt that on Nov. 3d we will elect the whole ticket from McKinley down."

The ward nominations were confirmed and the convention adjourned.

OBITUARY.

William Westfall.

From Our Wurtsboro Correspondent.

William Westfall, a well known resident of Wurtsboro, died, Monday night, of paralysis of the bowels, aged fifty-seven years. He had been failing for several years, but was not confined to his bed until Saturday. He leaves a wife, whose maiden name was Martha J. Cuddeback, and three children, viz: Jennie, wife of Druggist John C. Orth, of New York; Grace, who is teaching school at Portchester, and E. Macey, who is traveling salesman for Porter Bros. & Co., of New York.

Mr. Westfall removed from Cuddebackville to this village in 1877, and has since resided here. For many years he was principal of our public school, in which capacity he served with marked success. In 1884 he was nominated by the Democrats and elected School Commissioner of the First District of Sullivan county, embracing nine of the fifteen towns. He was re-elected in 1887, serving until 1890, when his failing health prevented him from further labor. Mr. Westfall was a man well liked by the entire community, and will be greatly missed in our village. His family have the deepest sympathy of all.

The funeral was held at the Reformed Church, to-day, at 1:30 p. m.

Mrs. Stoddard Hammond.

Mrs. Stoddard Hammond, of Binghamton, died last Thursday, at Orchard Lake, Sullivan county, where she had been spending the summer. The funeral services were held at Binghamton, Sunday, and the remains were interred in the cemetery at Monticello.

SOLDIERS' MONUMENT UNVEILING

Arrangements for Unveiling the Incorporated Association's Monument at Monticello.

The monument erected in Monticello to the soldiers and sailors of Sullivan county by the incorporated association will be unveiled Oct. 6th. The order of exercises will be as follows:

Parade of veterans at 1:30 p. m.

Dedicatory services at Memorial Park, at 2 p. m.

Oration, Gen. Horace Porter.

Dedicatory address, Col. Fred Grant, son of the late Gen. U. S. Grant.

Ex-U. S. Senator Frank Hiscock, of Syracuse, will be present. Free luncheon will be served by the ladies of the association to veterans and their wives, at the town hall, from 11:30 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. Tickets for luncheon may be obtained on application to the Commander of Ratcliffe Post, Monticello.

The Erie, Ontario and Western and Port Jervis–Monticello R. R. Companies have arranged to give low rates on their respective roads to and from Monticello.

The Secretary of the Association has in her possession personal letters from Gen. Porter and Col. Fred Grant giving positive assurance that they will be present as stated.

There will be no postponement. Should the day prove stormy Murray's large hall has been secured and the services will take place there.

MONTICELLO'S MONUMENT FEUD

Its Bitterness Shown by a "Warning" on the Bills Advertising the Unveiling

The hand bills sent out to advertise the unveiling of the incorporated association's soldiers' monument, at Monticello are eloquent witnesses to the bitterness of the vendetta declared by the association against its unincorporated progenitor. The largest type on the bill received at this office, emphasized by a large hand pointing toward it, was devoted to this announcement:

☞ Any posters, circular, letter or bills which may be posted or mailed, or any one announcing a postponement, should be treated as an imposition emanating from unfriendly sources.

The monument associations are not composed, (as this warning in ragged English naturally suggests,) of the riff-raff of Monticello, but include among their members what are commonly known as the "best people." It almost passes belief that the women of one association should proclaim to the world that they think their neighbors of the other association could be base enough to resent a contemptible trick in order to mar the success of the celebration. Only one thing is more incredible,—that the members of the unincorporated association have given any occasion or pretext for such a seemingly unnecessary warning.

PARADE DAY BANNERS.

More "Welcome to Firemen" Than Middletown Ever Saw Before.

It is said there will be more banners on firemen's day than were ever before seen in this city and that many new designs will be seen.

McQuoids and Monhagens have arranged for a joint affair to be placed across the front of the building. The name of each company will appear over their respective rooms and under McQuoids will be "Niagaras" and under Monhagens will be "Crystals." As both these visiting companies are from the Keystone State, very appropriately a representation of a key stone will be painted between the names of the companies and on it this inscription: "Oct. 8th, 1896, Middletown."

A DAY ON THE HUDSON.

Commodore Corey to Give a Party of Friends a Sail on the Cordelia.

Drs. Burke and Pillsbury and Samuel M. Boyd, Geo. H. Decker, J. Decatur Horton, Archie Taylor, Leander Brink, John W. Slauson and Edwin S. Merrill, of this city, will go to Cornwall, to-morrow, and board Horace W. Corey's steam yacht Cordelia for a trip up the Hudson. The party will stop at Poughkeepsie for dinner and return by evening train over the Ontario and Western.

Mr. Corey is much pleased to know that while the great storm of Tuesday played havoc with so many of the small craft along the river, the "Cordelia," which was moored in the river just off Cornwall, rode the gale without the slightest injury. The tug Edwin S. Terry, of Newburgh, was beached on the flats opposite Cold Spring. The naptha launch "Olivette," was taken into the inlet at Cornwall and escaped injury.

Runyon's Parade.

J. C. Runyon & Son gave a street parade of their new wagons, yesterday afternoon, which attracted considerable attention. The parade was led by the big truck and five of the new delivery wagons followed.
